

Maverick Solution Services

As a leading AV and Collaboration technology distributor, Maverick and TD SYNEX have the very best, most efficient, state-of-the-art logistics operations at our disposal. We can easily meet all your needs across National, European and Global territories direct from our warehouse. However, we offer much more than simple, efficient and reliable delivery.

Choose a partner that understands your business

- Operating in accordance to ISO 27001, 14001 and 9001
- A wide profile of products from leading brands providing plenty of device options and availability
- Team of fully qualified specialists to escalate service turnaround. Full Soak testing and quality control checks are made prior to despatch
- TD SYNEX's sustainability commitment

Meet funding obstacles head on, with subscription-based technology

Allowing you to bundle together all your customers' hardware, software, and services into a single, easy to manage monthly or quarterly contract. Tech-as-a-Service is the only technology subscription plan that does it all in one single place. Not only this, it gives your customers' access to the latest technology, optimises IT budgets, and simplifies bills.

A huge challenge for many AV and IT resellers is to receive large quantities of stock and then organise, collate and distribute it to complex or large scale deployments. Each room solution can contain a different list of hardware options let alone for different locations.

Availability of equipment is at the heart of AV projects, managing it efficiently is critical to the success of the project. Many channel partners simply don't have adequate warehouse space to support large or complex installs so rely on just in time deliveries which introduce risk and can increase project costs.

With the right distribution partner supporting you with services to design and implement complex solutions you can enhance the way you do business. At the heart of our offering are advanced logistics services including the ability to consolidate inventory, asset tag equipment, configure hardware, create virtual warehousing and provide drop shipping of scheduled deliveries. With Maverick AV Solutions as your partner you can send hardware options purchased through Maverick or other suppliers into a central location. We can consolidate the hardware options into individual room “configurations” wrapped and packaged for easy transport.

Added services without adding overhead

Configuration - Our highly trained team of technicians provide a wide range of box ready, device services including Autopilot enrolment, Asset Tagging, component installation, and more whilst operating in accordance to ISO 27001/9001/14001. Amongst device services, our team provide disposal solutions covering operating system installation and transfer, and disk sanitization. Many of our solutions have tiered service levels, providing your client with exactly what they require.

Storage & Specialist Delivery - Secure and hold stock whilst taking full advantage of limited time offers without compromising your stock holding facilities. Once ready, deploy your products with drop-shipments and/or scheduled deliveries to meet roll-out plans precisely. With our specialist delivery service, no project is too large or time sensitive.

Collation & Distribution – Consolidate hardware into customer ready options to elevate margins and avoid key products not being available. Take the complexity of product compatibility and create flexible and creative bundles. Maverick wrap and package for easy transport, taking away the complexity of organising deliveries out to your customers. Your customer only signs for one delivery and makes storing bulk orders easy. Supplied with our add-on service, asset tagging or custom labelling, making this a prime solution.

Recycling & Trade-In Services – Reuse and recycle legacy devices with Trade-In or securely repurpose devices with disk sanitization to guarantee the removal of key data. Keeping in mind Tech Data’s environmental statement, all devices are recycled professionally and environment-friendly including the correct disposal of devices which include hazardous materials such as LED displays and circuit boards. Trade in unused equipment when your refreshing with the latest technologies and save costs towards your new devices, along with providing peace of mind with disposal.

Whatever your configuration and logistics needs, Maverick AV Solutions can meet them and help you to deliver the very best levels of service to your customers.
